

Congregation Darchei Noam

Minneapolis, Minnesota

Rabbinic Leadership Opportunity

ABOUT THE CONGREGATION:

Darchei Noam, a Modern Orthodox congregation of over 55 families, is located within the eruv in St. Louis Park, an attractive inner ring suburb of Minneapolis (under 10 minutes from downtown). Founded in 2005, Darchei Noam has quickly established a reputation in the Twin Cities as an exciting, energetic, and welcoming congregation. Members serve as shlichei tzibbur and baalei keriah, deliver divrei torah, and offer weekly shiurim in Gemara and Torah. Darchei Noam has also hosted numerous scholars-in-residence for Shabbatonim that have attracted a wide cross-section of the local Jewish community.

Committed to halakha, spiritual growth, intellectual openness, engagement with the broader community, the development of our youth, and the State of Israel, Darchei Noam is now conducting a search for rabbinic leadership.

ABOUT THE POSITION:

Darchei Noam is looking for a part-time rabbi, with orthodox semicha, who shares the congregation's values, will help it grow in numbers and in spirituality, and will build on its commitment to Torah study.

Darchei Noam is looking for a rabbi who exhibits:

- personal warmth, people skills, and a talent for engaging children and teenagers.
- strong teaching, counseling, and public-speaking skills.
- energy and leadership.
- the ability to work with Jewish community leaders across the denominational spectrum and with the broader community.

Darchei Noam expects that candidates may wish to pursue other employment or educational opportunities in the Twin Cities, and its membership is well-positioned to facilitate a wide range of partnership opportunities. Salary and benefits are negotiable.
